Bruichladdich Octomore 10 year
abv 46% $70	Whiffs of smoky iodine, leather, polish, Nutella, ginger syrup, and orange peels compete for your attention before allowing the fruit to come into its own.	The heat from the natural strength is tempered by the wonderful texture of the whisky. The balance of smoke, fruit and oak is different from other octomore's.	Given time, the power will fade. The ever dry peat smoke will be the last flavor to remain. Reminiscent of pipe tobacco ash and peat tea.
Bruichladdich Octomore 11.1
abv % $55	Initial notes of lemon, wet peat, pencil shavings and a salty minerality. Peach yogurt, toffee and a rubbery smokey almost antiseptic note comes from the peat smoke.	Brown sugar sweetness hits the palate initially. Stone fruit, apricot, and peach yogurt come to the fore and then the cask influence appears with sweet vanilla and toasted oak.	Malt, huge peat notes, earthy, oily and bonfires. Vanilla honey and ginger spice sweetness finish beautifully.
Bruichladdich Octomore 11.3
abv % $65	Eight floral notes on the nose. Summery and bright, the peat smoke is slow to rise but comes through with a light touch.	A gentle sweetness, honey and fruit syrup arrive. Orange blossom, apricot jam and again the floral bouquet all gentle soft notes are holding off the phenols.	Naturally, the phenolic presence comes through on the finish. The floral notes fade and the dry smoke comes through.
